THE TWO NUMBERS

Net worth = A − B _____

Debt-to-asset = B ÷ A × 100 _____ %

Debt-to-asset under 40% is comfortable; over 80% means most of what you own is borrowed against.

How to use it

Two tables, two numbers, and a strip for the year. Fill it in today, then once a month.

1 Print it

Print at 100% or "Actual size" on US Letter or A4. One sheet lasts a year: fill in the two tables today, then one square of the strip at the end of each month.

2 List what you own and owe

Use today's balances, and what your home and vehicles would sell for now, not what you paid. Add up each table.

3 Do the math

Net worth = Total assets − Total debts. Debt-to-asset = Total debts ÷ Total assets × 100. Write both in. The direction month by month matters more than any one number.

WHEN PAPER IS NOT ENOUGH

This page is the paper version of the Net Worth Tracker spreadsheet

- ☐ One row per account, up to 30: cash, investments, retirement, home and vehicles, every debt
- ☐ Type each month's balances once; net worth, assets, and debts are worked out for every month
- ☐ Change this month and this year, by category too
- ☐ Debt-to-asset ratio and progress toward a net worth goal
- ☐ A dashboard with eight tiles and three charts
- ☐ A blank file and a filled-in example

It does the math for every month you type in.
